Subject: New website for Café Aurora

Lucy, client

We want to renew our coffee shop's website. We need five sections in English: Home, Menu, About us, Gallery and Contact. It must look good on desktop and mobile, show our menu and let visitors send an inquiry through a form. We will provide the logo, photos and copy.

Our total budget is USD 600 and we want the site live on November 20, 2026. For now we will not sell products on the website. We do not need a store, cart, online payments, user accounts, inventory or translations.

Alex, freelancer

I can prepare the design, build those five sections, set up the form and launch the website. Two rounds of revisions on the agreed screens are included. I propose three deliverables, each paid once it is delivered and approved: planning and UI design (30 %), website development (50 %) and testing and launch (20 %).

Lucy, client

We agree with the scope and the USD 600. So the payments would be USD 180 when we approve the design, USD 300 when the website is developed and USD 120 before launch. Let's put the delivery plan in writing first. Any store or extra feature will be quoted separately.
